

A Gift To Mercy's Newborns

"It feels good to give!" says Sara Govero. Her gift purchased three vital pieces of equipment that help provide positive oxygen for newborn babies in respiratory distress.

Kelly Branscum, Nurse Manager of Mercy Childbirth Center Jefferson, said regarding the impact of their generosity "It allows us to keep the babies here at Jefferson than have to be transported to a higher acuity hospital. This in turn allows the mother and baby to be together which is an important part," said Kelly.

Sara works with several community organizations and wanted to do something to help provide better care for babies and our community.

Pictured: Sara Govero and her boyfriend, Daniel Weaver, left, and Kelly Branscum, Nurse Manager and Amy Schwent, Nurse Clinician, Mercy Childbirth Center Jefferson

